Hi Hannah,

We have just noticed a document has been added to our application which objects to the planned build.

Having read the document none of the reasons given are valid, especially relating to overlooking her property as she has trees which are higher than the planned build.

I'm hoping this won't negatively impact the decision, looking at the proposed build site it is by no means impacting her garden space, patio, or overlooking her house at all. And we certainly won't be able to see into her property at all.

Kind regards,
Simon
