I wish to object about this request to change the Listed Building Consent that is being disregarded to suit building on a car park at the rear of the Inglenook Hotel. Pagham..... it would seem total disregard for listed buildings is being waived in the need of greed/ not care for the public in Arun District areas, this seems to give anyone the right to change at will refusing to comply and obey with Listed Buildings requirement and further protection of these buildings in the blatant option for catering for greed of individuals that wish to flaunt rules and recognised regulations people have upheld by most for years, and this change all for new unwanted buildings in an area already under pressure for water drainage. supply and sewage disposal,
