Dear Mr Harper,

Liz Rogers is the correct person, but she is now on leave for some time. In the chain of e-mails the attachments have disappeared at some point so I do not have them. If you could re-send them to myself and Stephanie Evans we will attempt to deal with the case in Liz's absence.

David

Liz Rogers is a colleague of mine in the Environmental Management Team who has recently returned from Maternity Leave. Liz Reed is the Environmental Housing Manager who I am currently covering while she is on Maternity Leave.

This is Liz related confusion on a colleagues part -- so I have forwarded to Liz Rogers -- who remains in post -- with her original name - and the most appropriate person -- but as I can see she has some leave coming up (and I may have missed her today) -- I have also copied this to her colleagues.

Hope that helps

Steve

Mr Dommatt,

I have been trying to get hold of Liz, I sent an email to Erogars (see below), and have been trying to chase up with her some comments; however when I rang up reception they told me that she has changed her surname to Reed I therefore sent a email and this is getting a no reply as it doesn't exist. I have now phoned up reception again and they are now telling me that Liz is on maternity leave; either way I am not getting an out of office reply.

I am therefore wondering if someone could help me with a response to me attached comment to Liz's objections.

If you have any question please do not hesitate in contacting me if you have any questions.

Liz,

Please find attached the response to your letter dated 15th March, which was sent David Innes at Arun District Council. I have also attached the response that we have had from Alison Giacomelli from Natural England's Sussex and Kent Area Team, as this helps address some of your comments/concerns.

As you will see I have also attached David Innes into this response.

If you have any further comments or questions please do not hesitate to contact me.
