I own the land and the north ditch in between the two sites, it was illegally dug out with out permission by the previous owners agents Hanbury. It is 8- 10 times the size and it was taken from my land. I am going to fill it back in to its original size and depth.

I am not sure how it can be maintained as I will give no permission for anybody to enter my land again, they can make as many reports as they like but they can not implicate it.

Have you viewed the site ?

Why do you think you are doing the job when Arun's engineers have been on the case from the start.

Please get Simon to add this to the online files

Thanks Len
