Dear Simon,

Thank you for your email.

We have been in contact with Development Archaeology Services who will produce the necessary report and discuss the requirements with the Archaeology Advisor.

The RSPB, who have asked for the changes to the Little Tern Island, will produce the necessary ecology report, and discuss this with the CDC environment officer.

The Construction Management Plan is likely to be delayed. The RSPB would like to appoint the contractor for the work in March/April, and we will appoint the contractor for the final part of the work.

If these reports are not ready in time, we may, as you suggest, withdraw the application, and re-apply when all is ready. It is likely that the CMP for the second part of the work will need to be a separate application to avoid undue delay.

There are signs that at some points of the tides, the tidal stream is flowing inside the shingle banks just off the beach. This is inhibiting the banks coming onshore to replenish the beach badly eroded by the previous spit. It is also likely to erode the beach opposite the revetment which suffered so badly in 2015. It is becoming increasingly urgent for this work to go ahead for the protection of the people and properties on the beach.

Best wishes,
Geoff

Dear Geoff,

We are starting to get consultation responses come in and if you are not already doing so then I would recommend that you keep an eye on our website (the online application files). In particular both our ecologist and our archaeologist are advising that they cannot agree to discharge conditions as insufficient detail has been provided.

Kind Regards
