Hi Ella

I have never been asked to indicate existing patios on location plans - The scale of these is so small I think there is risk that the line indicating a patio could be misread as buildings. I am pretty certain indication of patios is not a requirement on a location plan however, if I am mistaken please can you direct me to where this requirement is stated in the validation requirements?

The patios are shown on the black plan drawing that I sent to you on the 10th August which I am re-attaching to this email.

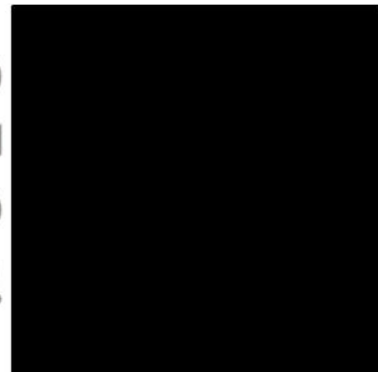

Kind Regards

Lauren

Hi Lauren,

The existing ground floor plan you sent looks good now, however, the application is still invalid as the proposed patio and existing patio's need to be visible on the location and block plans. This allows the plans to stay consistent throughout.

If you have any questions, feel free to email me.

Thanks,

Ella Summerfield.

Dear Ella

Please find attached the existing ground floor plan which now accords with the existing patio area shown on the proposed floor plan and block plan.

Kind Regards
