Re: Planning Application 8. Ilex House, Cudlow
Garden - replacement balcony railing.

This is an architect designed estate, the balcony railings are a significant and elegant feature.
All the railings rust, but given regular attention
are not a problem.

Watering of flower containers attached to them
(as at above) does not help.

Preservation of the original architectural aesthetic look, has ensured the value of the properties does not decline.

Residents who have lived here for a long time, (18 years in my case) are often forced to defend our lovely peaceful estate against changes by relative newcomers which go against the regulations.

On a lighter note, seagulls delight in defecating down the windows, and would use glass balcony panels in the same way.

I would therefore like to register my no vote.

Sincerely,
