Dear Mr Boyd

Thank you for you email, a CIL is required for all applications submitted, I have attached one for ease, the answer will be 'no' to most questions as the application itself is not CIL liable. Although the plans are fine they are not measuring to scale. It appears they have not been scanned in correctly at A4 and are compressed. Please amend however if you do not have the facilities to amend these you can send the paper version directly to me and I will arrange to scan these in for you and then return the plans straight back. I will then backdate the application to the date of postage in order to prevent any more delay.

Please send them directly to

Hi,

Please find attached all documents as requested with the exception of CIL as I believe this is not applicable to dropped kerbs

Kind regards
Steve
