for attention of damian sullivan

dear sir

We have noted two letters from the same person regarding our application objecting to something that we have not applied for, there are also very defamatory remarks based on there innacurate description of our application, these remarks are a pesonal attack on us and should not have been posted.

we also note that the letters are very much out side of the consultation period.

we are dissapointed that they were put into the public domain considering there total innacuracy and the damaging nature of the remarks.

we would like them removed from the site with immediate effect, thank you, mr& mrs kl drew.

*Do I say we have no control over content & therefore will not remove? Seems reasonable if in agreement.
