Comment from Greenspace

This application has included a detailed landscape scheme where the ornamentals would appear to be suitable for location. The Planting Plan drawing 18071/01R1 details species type, and indicative planting density however it does not detail specific quantities and locations particularly for the proposed woodland planting. This detail is also lacking the proposed size at time of planting which we would require confirmation of in plan form.

Our recommendation therefore would be that this drawing is amended to show actual quantities and species in location rather than just detail of the variety for location along with size at time of planting.

I would recommend that the above information is submitted and approved before the reserved matters application relating to landscaping condition 7 is approved.
