

Underpinning much of the staff's thinking is the idea that the world is a place of constant change and that the only way to survive is to be able to adapt to change. This is a view that is shared by many of the staff and is reflected in the way they work. They are constantly looking for ways to improve their work and to make it more effective. They are also looking for ways to make their work more interesting and more challenging. This is a view that is shared by many of the staff and is reflected in the way they work. They are constantly looking for ways to improve their work and to make it more effective. They are also looking for ways to make their work more interesting and more challenging.