Good morning Sian,

First of all thank you for your support and patience. I hope you are having a nice and bank holiday break. I have revised the drawing to show the extension up to the red line as requested. Please see 'Proposed' attachment.

I was slightly concerned the extension could be misconstrued to project beyond the existing building line (which it will not) and therefore have also provided an additional drawing 'Proposed 2' which keeps the layout 'as is' but shows the extension absorbed into the existing garage. I will leave it to your discretion to use the best solution to validate the application.

Thanks again in advance for your support.

Kindest regards

Gabriel

Hello

Apologies that it has taken a few days to reply we have had a few issues with the software. I have managed to convert your plans to A4 and all are fine now apart from the attached plan. If you could show the extension up to the red line that I have marked on the proposed floor plan plan (just extend your red line further and show the window on it) then everything will measure to scale then and I will be able to make the application valid. If you have to leave the original extension line in place on the plan in place do not worry I can block over that.

Kind regards

Sian

Good evening Sian,

Many thanks for your assistance. With my permission it would greatly appreciated if you could try amending the drawings to suit A4 paper size.

Kindest regards

Gabriel

Hello

It is a national requirement that all drawings are drawn to scale. With your permission I can try amend the paper size to A4 and see if that rectifies the scaling issues.

Kind regards

Dear Sian,

Comments noted however how critical are the drawings if they are not to scale when all the dimensions are clearly shown?

Kind regards

Gabriel
