CONCLUSIONS

PRINCIPLE

The key policies considered are D DM1, D DM4 and TSP1 of the Arun Local Plan. Rustington has a made Neighbourhood Plan and policy 2 with direct relevance to this application. The proposal complies with this policy.

DESIGN AND VISUAL AMENITY

The side extension which would be built above the garage and the roof profile would be altered incorporate a hipped roof. The development, whilst large, blends in with the built form of the dwelling. The proposal involves alterations to the fenestration pattern and removal of the garage door and insertion of a window.

The proposal does conflict with advised contained in Class M of the Design Guide because the side extension is built flush with the host dwelling; however this does not significantly alter the appearance nor it creates an terracing effect. It is noticed that street scene is characterised by similar types of alterations and extensions, the proposed development is not considered to have significant harm on the visual amenity of the street scene. The side extension and alterations would uplift the dwelling to provide more contemporary appearance which is supported by class M of the design guidance and NPPF. The part rear single rear extension would not visible from the public domain and therefore development would have lesser impact on the street scene. The existing materials are standard brick finish and rendered white finish has been proposed. Brisk finish and rendered finish is quite prominent finish within the street and some properties contain both.

The development accords with D DM1 and D DM4 of the Arun Local Plan.

RESIDENTIAL AMENITY

The part two storey rear extension is limited in scale and approximately measures (2.78m in depth). The existing single storey extension measures 2.36m in depth and overall depth of the extension would measure 4.26m and height is below 3m with flat roof. However, up to 4m could be built under provisions of the permitted development.

In this case development does conflict with the class M design guide; whilst the refusal cannot be justified. The 45-degree line has been shown on the plans which does not indicate any loss of light or overbearing impact on the adjoining dwelling. The detached nature of the plots and distance from the boundary helps mitigate impact of the development. Therefore, no demonstrable harm is demonstrated to residential amenity. The development is not considered to harm neighbouring amenity by way of overbearing, overshadowing or overlooking and accord with D DM1 and D DM4 of the Arun Local Plan.

Parking

Garage conversion into habitable use would result in loss of f parking. The front driveway could facilitate additional parking space. Proposal complies with T SP1 of the Arun Local Plan.
