Subject: WA/58/18/PL 1 Orchard Way, Walberton: tree retainment construction management plan

Anita,

It appears that there are still a few items to be clarified.

As your email, Once I have received the final report (approved), I will forward this to you for inclusion in the application.

I also confirm that we agree to an extension of time to determine this application.

Dear Noel,

Is this the report you are referring to in your e-mail today? I have not added it to the application since I cannot until you as agent advise me that it is to be included. I will now scan this correspondence and assessment against the application. However, I am not sure that it will satisfactorily address our concerns. The restrictions resulting from the presence of the tree on the use of the rear garden and my original request to reduce the scheme to one dwelling still remain. I need to discuss the documents with my Team Leader and would appreciate your agreement to an extension of time until 08-02-2019 to allow for this to take place.

Regards

Subject: RE: 1 Orchard Way Fontwell - Tree Issues

Dear Mark

Thanks for your assistance with this site. I have noted all your concerns & suggestions below. Attached is an impact assessment for the morphed RPA of T2 as requested. The impact on the non-morphed RPA of T2 is <7% and morphed is 20.75%. The patio area becoming decking is to my mind a marked improvement to be honest and I do not see the bike stores as being significant. The house impacts on T2 are essentially within the guidelines and high quality mitigation is offered and I am confident that a specialist foundation along the lines of that suggested, has the scope to work very satisfactorily-from direct experience. You did not mention concerns re crown separation and 'pressure to prune' in your initial comments of a few weeks ago but I quite understand that you feel as you do. I have suggested that the crown, which is asymmetric in the direction of the new houses, could reasonably be pruned back by a competent arborist, whilst retaining the amenity value & useful life expectancy of the tree and this remains my position plus I think that the fact that the tree is north east of the proposed build(s) is important. I hope that if acceptable to you we can condition a method statement and construction management plan and agree site supervision at that stage?

I wouldn't be putting a scheme like this in front of you unless I thought it was deliverable with T2 retained in good condition and that is still my opinion. I'll call you tomorrow on the off chance that I catch you at your desk.

Many thanks

James

Subject: FW: 1 Orchard Way Fontwell - Tree Issues

James

Thank you for your email.

I still have concerns for the impact of this proposal, in respect of both future 'pressure to prune' arising from proximity of dwellings to existing tree canopy and the extent of RPA incursion (which needs to be quantified), albeit with 'special measures' proposed. I would be a lot happier with one dwelling outside of the RPA.

I think the package of revisions you set out below are a 'best attempt' at mitigation for the disturbance of soil structure/roots. With your services retained, I think it is worthwhile for your client to continue refining this proposal – it will all have to be clearly set out in a very detailed method statement. I am sure this is well within your skill set, but it is an ambitious undertaking for most and successful implementation would hinge on adequate on-site supervision by the project arboriculturist.

Ground protection measures are also going to be key and a construction management plan that fully respects the tree throughout the duration of site works.

Let's see what comes forward.

Regards,

Mark
