Dear Andrew,

Thank you for your email, as you know site access has been my problem at the moment hence my detailing of trees. I'm happy to get a qualified Arboriculturist to prepare the tree protection plan, as we are now close to Christmas and most companies will close over the Christmas period, to allow this to be done can we either.

Delay this going to the committee until March to allow the protection plan to be drawn up, submitted and approved by your Arboriculturist and as such I'm happy to extend the date until the middle of March to allow for this.

Or

If you prefer and to get this sorted can this go to the committee with the pre-commencement condition to cover this something along the lines of below, as Mark states the Tree survey makes adequate appraisal of the trees and describes methodology for protection measures.

Proposed pre commencement condition.

"No development shall be commenced until such time as plans and details have been submitted to and approved in writing by the Local Planning Authority showing the proposed tree protection plan. Such provision once approved and implemented shall be retained throughout the period of construction.

Reason: To ensure retained trees will be protected during the construction and future use of the site in accordance with policy T SP of the Arun Local Plan."

Kind regards

Peter

Andrew

I have read through the attached Tree Survey Report. In general, it makes an adequate appraisal of the site (trees) and describes methodology for protection measures.

Unfortunately, the applicant has not provided a Tree Protection Plan showing the precise detail of what measures are to be applied and where. This is essential before we can recommend approval, as without a specific plan there is no way we can ensure retained trees will be protected.

Regards,

Mark

Andrew,

I really fail to see how this can be the case when white cottage next door will have dormers and Richmond house has velux windows in the roof, like I said it doesn't change the height of the dwellings and if like I propose moving the dormers to the back/rear elevation they would not be visible from any point outside the site and only from the properties own back gardens, This should then have no conflict with policy D DM1 as it would be in character from all vantage points to the properties from Arundel road and west walberton lane.

I would understand the objection if we weren't willing to move the dormers so they were visible. It would seem stupid to have these loft spaces sitting empty when they have to be built anyway and would I believe certainly conflict with NPPF to ensure good use of space.

Kind regards

Peter

Peter,

the issue with the rooms in the roof is that the appearance of the dwellings will be of a town house which is simply not appropriate in this location. I would strongly advise you to remove this element from the scheme. To avoid the risk of the development being viewed as 'out of character' in the area and contrary to policy D DM1 of the Arun Local Plan. I have discussed the matter with my line management team and everyone is of the same view in this case.

I look forward to receiving the further information as promised.

Thank you,

Andrew Wood

Good morning,

Thank you for your email, apologies for the delay it went in the spam folder.

1, Happy to amend property six to make a nine metre distance.

2, we fail to see the merit in removing the room in the roof, this would have no impact on the height of the buildings and would result in empty lift spaces which would not allow for good use of space as per the NPPF. You will note from drawing 19-001-PL-03 all the dormers on houses 3-6 are in the south and therefore can not be seen from the front or any point outside the properties. Currently prosperities one and two have the dormers on the north but I would be happy to move these to the south so these are the same and none can be seen from Arundel road. I also would like to mention the design of white cottage next door that will have dormers in the roof and Richmond house which has velum windows in the roof. As previously mentioned the new ridge heights will be lower than the current house at Lanes end this can be seen in the scale drawings provided. If you could let me know if this is acceptable as if possible to avoid I would prefer not to have to appeal the reserved matters for this small item.

I am currently having the surveys and drawings you have asked for drawn up and hope to have these to you shortly, I also mention that the buildings will not be visible from west walberton lane as the current line of trees along the lane are to be kept to keep the lane 'looking like a country lane' which was one of the councillors request when the outline permission was granted at committee.

All TPO trees are to be protected and remain along with other mature trees and the survey will confirm this with the required protection measures (fencing off/signage, pile foundations where required)

Many thanks

Peter

Mr. Terry,

WA/7/19/RES - Lanes End, West Walberton Lane - Additional information request

In order to avoid refusal of the application on grounds of loss of amenity and proposed development being out of character with surrounding area can you;

1. Amend the layout to ensure that a minimum of 9 metres exists on from blank gable end (or obscure glazed windows non opening below 1.7 metres in height) of nearest proposed house to gable end of 'Woodlands' which currently incorporates sole habitable room windows.
2. Remove second storey of houses/rooms in roof. 3 storey townhouses would not be acceptable in this location

The following information is required to assess this application:

1. Ecology – Extended Phase One Habitat Survey.
2. Trees – Arboricultural Impact Assessment & Method Statement along with a Tree Retention Protection Plan.
3. Highways - Floor plans (houses and garages) providing clarification of refuse collection and demonstration via swept path tracking that refuse and fire appliance can turn within the site, ideally reaching within 45m of furthest point of each building.
4. Scale drawing showing the comparative heights of the buildings and neighbouring buildings from West Walberton Lane.

Do not hesitate to contact me should you require any clarification of this email.

Thank you,

Andrew Wood
