Simon,

I refer to the reply given in respect of Stakers Barn, which you referred to earlier today.

I will add that as the buildings open to the roadside and there is limited turning space adjacent to each unit, we would not envisage uses that require large lorries of any kind.

Dear Michael,

I have received the attached responses from WSCC in relation to the transport issues (note both responses have the same wording). I wonder in line with their comments, are you able and willing to provide some additional information?

Kind Regards
