

In regard to the fence profile, we would be looking to install something similar to the below. I'm still conscious that it is going to be very hard to field by utilising metal railings but to replace with new metal estate railings to be approved on site by yourself and your conservation officer prior

