Hi Simon,

I have had a quick look at the application and your photos. Oh and google street view! Based on your photos/company website I would agree with you – that the revised tiles are redder, but seem ok. However, when I look at the application photographs (and compare to the google street view) the approved ones seem to better reflect the neighbouring barn, where as the proposed are very much more red/almost a pink colour as opposed to orange..... so am not so sure.....! see attached photo of both the tile in your pic and the application for the difference.....

Sorry, this is not much help – hopefully, I am not overthinking this one.....!

Sorry

Martyn

Hi Martyn,

I've just got an NMA in to change one of the roof tiles we approved on Y/98/21/DOC. Can you give me a quick opinion please. I've made a comparison using imagery from Google, see attached. There are also photos of the tiles on the file. The proposed tile seems redder but it looks decent.

Simon.
