Dear Lucy,

I have already made my objections to the planning of houses surrounding my barn on your allocated web site, but I have been waiting for someone with the technology to be able to take some overhead photos so you can see first-hand the impact these houses will have on us as well as the historic gateway to the village.

The ground level of our barn is substantially lower than the proposed development, so taking photos at ground level would not have shown the situation very well.

I know the date for the objections has past, but please do take these images into consideration.

Regards,

Angela Broughton
