Good afternoon,

I have now received our drainage engineers' comments on your application at the address above. Unfortunately, their comments indicate that they require further information and are not recommending that the condition is discharged at this time. The additional information which they require is set out in their comments and the comment tracker, which are attached. If you wish to provide further information on the application to address their comments, I would need to receive these by 19/09/2025. Please let me know if this won't be possible.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Hebe Smith (she/her)
