Other than the obvious loss of country side and the affect on wildlife. The is the loss of valuable farmland for food production, and crops and animal grazing. There is the lack of local services, public transport, road safety, GP services and apart from affecting people's wellbeing and safety, there is the human rights act which covers basic rights to basic services. The government are also stating that peoples rights to broadband services which again are limited, we have no virgin media to the village at all. Another reason why no more properties can be built in or around this village is the basic human right of water which as natural England states is scarce in the Arun Valley and the resource is below what it should be due to the amount being used by the building and addition human need all theses extra properties use. No more building in Yapton it has to stop before we have nothing left and people rights are not met even basic ones.
