Comment from Greenspace

This application has included a detailed landscape scheme with trees, shrubs, grasses, perennials, hedging and groundcover that are both suitable and fitting for location. The 'Site layout-Landscape layout drawing 16024-RM110 D whilst contains details of species type, size and planting density does not include the plant quantities being proposed, which we would recommend are a requirement in plan form.

Our recommendation therefore would be that this drawing is amended to show actual quantities in location rather than just detail of the variety for location.

I would recommend that the above information is submitted and approved before the reserved matters application relating to landscaping is approved.
