Thanks for the update. Extension to 11 April agreed. As you say below, I'd be grateful if everything can be lined up to promptly issue the decision once the statutory obligations are fulfilled (assuming no major issues raised of course).

Kind regards,

Dear Mr Jamieson,

I have had a look at this application with my manager and additional site notices, to those erected previously, are required. These will be erected Monday the 18th March and will give people 21 days from Monday to comment – so they will have until the 7th April 2019. Additionally it was noted that the Environment Agency needed to be consulted they have 21 days from today. (they may have no comments to give but they are a statutory consultee that should have been consulted). I will ensure that the report is written prior to the 21 day consultee deadline and will update the report the week beginning 8th April should any comments be received.

I apologise for the delay. I would therefore be looking for an extension of time until the 11th April to allow any comments to be taken into account and the report to be signed off.

Yours sincerely

Richard/Juan/Daniel,

Can someone please advise what's going on here? We are totally in the dark.

I have heard nothing since the EIA Screening Opinion was adopted and the application is now 34 days overdue.

I have suggested an extension until 29 March; is this acceptable?

This seems to be a straightforward application on the face of it, as there are no public objections or consultee comments (unless they're not online).

Please advise.

Hi Richard,

Can you please provide an update on this? I'd like to agree an extension of time to 29 March, to draw this to a conclusion. Please confirm this is acceptable as the applicant needs some certainty on this process.

Kind regards,

James
