Dear Kathryn,

I have sought further environmental health advice regarding the lighting spec. The officer has said that "Whilst the details provided below indicates that light spillage will be minimal, provision of a lux contour map would also be helpful. With regard to the potential light nuisance, perhaps the applicant could advise whether it is possible to retrospectively fit shields (or something similar) to the proposed units so that if the streetlights facing Park Drive do cause a nuisance, this can be easily remedied."

Would it be possible to provide a LUX contour map and can you advise about shielding?

Kind Regards
